A NOTED S. S. WORKER SPEAKS

Dr. McElfresh Heard by Fair-Sized Audience.

Able Address Last Night At Opening Session of Sunday School Institute—Pointed Out Fact That Trained Teachers Are a Necessity In the Sunday School—Three Sessions Today—All Workers Urged to Attend.

Dr. Franklin McElfresh, teacher training superintendent of the International Sunday School Association spoke in the Grace Methodist Protestant church last night on "The Trained Teacher a Necessity for Christian Progress" and it was a magnificent effort, for all went away with a new and a very exalted idea of the function of the Sunday school teacher. The doctor clearly showed that while he was a master on the teaching training subject he was also as familiar on other lines of work. His presentation of the subject made one realize that the Sunday school was the one great place and the teachers work in it was the one great work.

Quite a large crowd of men were present, leading men of the city, and also the ladies, though on account of the weather many were kept indoors. Many of the city pastors were present and everyone realized that the evening was well spent. One superintendent, and he has one of the largest Sunday schools in the city, said he was going to phone his teachers and have them to be sure and not miss any session today. Another interested Sunday school man of the town said the address was the finest he had ever heard on the Sunday school work.

Mr. F. P. Hobgood presided at the meeting and Mr. Hodgins led the devotional exercises, taking the place of Dr. Clark, who was detained, but who arrived later.

Dr. McElfresh presented his subject through the four things the Sunday school teacher must know, he said, in order to render the service demanded of the church in this age of activity and material progress.

The first was the Bible, the book taught; the second, the pupil, the person taught; the third, the Sunday school, the place taught, the fourth, the teacher, the one teaching. He covered the ground most thoroughly and there was nothing of clap-trap in his remarks at all but all were based upon the solid foundation work, its being worth while to do the Sunday school teaching in the most efficient way possible even though it cost the price of consecration of one's time, one's work or one's life.

The speaker pointed out the fact that a large number of the children do not attend public schools and therefore all the training they receive must come through the Sabbath school. He dwelt upon the ease with which a child's mind is impressed and declared that it was absolutely necessary to have teachers tactful enough to say the right thing at the right time in order to make a lasting impression for good on the child's mind. He gave several illustrations where teachers had not proceeded in the proper way under certain circumstances and told how he thought they should have acted. Promptness of the teachers in attending was another essential feature for successful work. This is overcome in a large measure through the efforts of the organized classes and the Teaching Training class. Dr. McElfresh recommended that training classes be organized in every school. "We do not want teachers merely to teach the lesson," said the speaker, "but we want them to train the lives of their pupils so they will live lives of service for God." This could only be done by devoting some time daily to the lesson.

This is a habit forming age, said the speaker. The habits will be either good or bad and Dr. McElfresh impressed the importance of the child's forming good habits; those that would make him stronger and better, mentally, morally and spiritually when he grew older.

Mr. Van Carter announced that Mr. Hugh Cork, who was to have made an address, had been detained in Washington, but would reach the city in time to conduct the round table this morning at 10:15 o'clock. He called especial attention to the address on "What the Sunday School Association Stands For" to be delivered by Dr. McElfresh to night, urging that everybody interested in the Sunday school attend the session.

The local committee, of which Mr. C. C. McLean is chairman, are to be congratulated upon securing Dr. McElfresh to present this work to the Sunday school workers here and praise was freely felt towards them, at the close of the session last night. The session was to have been held in the West Market Street Methodist church annex but a delay in receiving the seats was the cause of its being removed to the Methodist Protestant church, for they very kindly offered their auditorium to the local committee when it became known the annex could not be gotten ready in time.

The Institute will be continued today and tonight with Dr. McElfresh and Mr. Hugh Cork both being present, and owing to the importance of the meeting to the Sunday school workers, the Ministerial Association has called in all prayer services for tonight.

This morning's session will convene at ten o'clock and all are invited to attend.

NAPIER CASE IS SET FOR TODAY

Will be Taken up This Afternoon.

One Or. Two Small Cases To Be Disposed

Of Before the Case Is Called—Case Will Hardly Be Concluded Before Tomorrow Night—Able Counsel For the Defense—Several Small Cases Taken Up Yesterday—No Sentences Pronounced.

The case of United States vs. Jos. Napier and E. Charles Quaster, the men charged with violating the white slave traffic laws, will be taken up in United States court today. District Attorney Holton stated last night that there were two or three small cases to be disposed of, but the case would be reached during the afternoon.

This is the most interesting case that will come up for trial during the present term. The defendants operated a show at a number of fairs in this state and also at Danville, Va., being arrested at the Mecklenburg fair by Deputy Marshal Blaylock and other deputies. Since that time they have been in jail under bonds of $2,500 each. The defendants have secured McKee and Stewart, of Charlotte, and ex-Judge W. P. Bynum, of this city, as counsel and the case will be a hard fought one. Ex-Judge A. L. Coble, of Statesville, will assist District Attorney Holton. There are a number of witnesses to be examined for the government and it is likely that more than a day will be consumed in the trial.

Several small cases were disposed of yesterday, but no sentence was pronounced. The jury in the case of John Craddock, who was tried Monday afternoon, yesterday morning brought in a verdict of guilty. Craddock was charged with illicit distilling. Fred Barker, of Surry, was charged with blockading, but the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. George Cook, of Yadkin county, was also acquitted of the charge of illicit distilling.

The case of United States vs. T. S. Spillman was taken up during the afternoon, the case going to the jury shortly before court adjourned. The jury had not agreed when an adjournment was taken until this morning.

The case of W. C. Stallings, of Yadkin county, was taken up just before court adjourned. The defendant is charged with padding his report to the government while he was a postmaster in Yadkin. The trial will be resumed this morning.

The cases against John Joyce, of Rockingham, and Gilbert Finny and George Marshall, of Yadkin, in which the defendants were charged with blockading, were not pressed by the district attorney.

JURORS FOR TWO TERMS ARE DRAWN

Selected by County Commissioners Yesterday Afternoon—Several Road Propositions Discussed—Meet Monday To Settle With Sheriff.

Yesterday was a busy day with the County Commissioners and in addition to drawing two juries a number of road matters were considered. The business was concluded, but the board will meet in adjourned session next Monday to settle with the sheriff.

The petition asking for a change in the road in Oak Ridge township leading from Stokesdale to the Rockingham line was declined and the order granting a public road as above stated, made on Aug. 2, was annulled, the road not having been opened. The original road will be used.

A petition formerly filed for a road in Friendship township was granted and the road ordered opened. Petitions were filed asking for new roads in Jamestown, Clay and Jefferson and ordered advertised.

Mr. J. N. Wilson was elected as county attorney for a term of two years on the same terms as heretofore.

The following jurors were drawn for the January term of civil court beginning on Jan. 2:

W. M. Clapp, T. G. Boon, W. W. Layton, A. R. Hines, R. M. Huffines, W. O. Godley, S. L. Rudd, Jno. M. Dick, Chas. W. Kirkman, A. E. Cain, R. F. Dalton, T. R. Marsh, C. W. Searlette, C. S. Knight, W. C. Dean, E. W. Branson, H. C. Cude, J. W. Clinard.

Jurors were drawn for one week beginning January 16: Lacy Loy, I. N. Woodward, W. A. Lineberry, W. A. Mack, J. D. F. Cobb, W. C. Welker, A. M. Bevil, C. L. Tucker, W. A. Kirkman, R. O. Lee, A. A. Chandler, C. H. Coltrane, P. L. Wilson, D. P. Huffines, J. M. Davis, G. L. Anthony, Jesse W. Bull, J. R. L. Davis.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT.

Several Cases Disposed of Before Judge Eare Yesterday Morning.

There were several cases before Judge Eare yesterday morning. Lillie Brower, the negro woman fined for being drunk and down on Monday, could not pay the fine so she was forwarded to the workhouse for a period of 20 days. Odus Brandon was fined $25 and costs for gambling, but he declined to pay it and took an appeal to Superior court. Ruby Jones, colored, was tried on the charge of vagrancy, being sentenced to the workhouse for a month, provided she did not leave the city within five days. She agreed to "get farther."

Tom Slade was charged with assaulting his wife. Judge Eare fined him $12.50 and costs. Tom bounced on his spouse on Sunday afternoon and she complained to the police, a warrant being issued Sunday night. Monday morning she went before Justice Collins and swore out a warrant on her own initiative, probably being disgruntled because the officers did not look the fighting brave up at once. So when an officer went down Monday morning to serve the warrant he found that a deputy sheriff had already served a warrant for the same offense. Later Tom gave his wife $3 to withdraw the warrant from Justice Collins' court and no sooner was this done than the police collared him. So the total amount Tommy was required to fork up because he thrashed his wife was in the neighborhood of $20, including the $3 paid her for withdrawing the first warrant.

LINEN SHOWER.

Miss Mary McAdoo Entertains in Honor of Miss Weatherly.

Miss Mary McAdoo most charmingly entertained Tuesday afternoon at a "linen shower" in honor of Miss Cordye Weatherly, who on December 27th, will become the bride of Mr. Thomas W. Tate.

The McAdoo home had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, the colors carried out in the scheme being red and white.

A game of "hearts" was one of the interesting features of the evening, the prize being awarded to Miss Mary Calum.

In the parlor was a large red airship suspended with red ribbon overhead. The bride was blindfolded and the many presents were showered upon her, which, upon being opened, proved to be handsome linen and other useful gifts.

A most delicious salad course was served, and the guests departed after bidding Miss Weatherly many good wishes for the future and voting Miss McAdoo a most charming hostess.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT AND THE OFFICE FORCE

Plea For Office Workers To Be Given Several Half Holidays To Do Their Christmas Shopping.

Editor Telegram:
The Christmas spirit is a very beautiful thing, this fellowship with all the world, and makes one's heart sing "Peace on earth, good will towards men."

While there are many in Greensboro who are beginning to enjoy this spirit and are happy in planning for the happiness of others, yet there are a large number of young men and young women, who, since circumstances keep them in offices and other places of business from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., with one hour for lunch, have no time to do their shopping or put their plans for Christmas into execution.

Since early shopping is being urged upon people, it might not be amiss to urge those employers who can do so to give one-half of each Saturday before Christmas to their office force that they may not only take advantage of the early shopping, but that the employer may thus show his appreciation of the work done by those under him. This would indeed be showing the Christmas spirit, for no employer can quite understand the hardships, the sacrifices made by his employees in their efforts to do full duty in the office, duty at home to loved ones, to say nothing of the duty they owe themselves.

There is not a man or woman employed in an office today but who will do better work by being given this half holiday for their own personal benefit.

It is hoped that each business man who reads these lines may have the Christmas spirit needed to cause him to put himself in his employees' place for a little while that he may know what granting such a favor would mean.

It would mean happiness to hundreds of employees and their families and friends. Have you this Christmas spirit?

"INTERESTED."

THE RED CROSS STAMP

To Be Placed on Sale in Various Stores At Once.

Many questions are being asked concerning the Red Cross Christmas stamps—where they are to be sold, when, etc. A large consignment of the stamps has just been received by Dr. W. P. Beall. He has been directed to place them in charge of suitable persons who will have them on sale at the various stores where Christmas goods are handled—notably the stationery, department, and novelty stores. The proceeds from the sale of the stamps are to go to the Anti-Tuberculosis Association for the sole and only purpose of helping along the crusade against tuberculosis. Not a penny of profit is to be reaped by any individual. The stamps are to be purchased by those wishing to assist in the crusade, and are to be placed on the back of letters, and packages—not on the front, as this is in violation of the ruling of the United States Postoffice Department. There is a contest to be entered into by the various towns and cities of the state, and it is to be hoped that Greensboro will make the best showing in the sale of these stamps.

The stamps will be placed on sale at once.

CENTENARY PHILATHEAS

Most Delightfully Entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Coble.

Yesterday evening Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Coble entertained the Philathea class of Centenary church in their beautiful new home on Asheboro street. The reception room, dining room and parlors were beautifully decorated in color and design prophetic of the coming Christmas holiday season, and when thrown open, thus making one large hall, the scene was one of fairy loveliness. In the dining room the decorations were ferns and pink and white carnations, the color scheme being carried out in the refreshments.

There was a large membership present, and, of course, there was the transaction of the usual class business; but business on such a delightful occasion and amid such splendid hospitality, was only one feature of the festive enjoyment and good-cheer of the evening.

The young ladies declare that they never spent two more delightful hours in any home nor will they find host and hostess to whom they will owe more gratitude and honor than to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Coble.

MANY BAPTISTS IN THE STATE

Denominational Membership is 220,225.

Report of Sunday School Secretary Middleton Shows There Are 1892 Churches With Above Membership—Large Increase in Contributions For All Purposes—Growth of Denomination For Past Ten Years Reviewed.

Raleigh, Dec. 6.—E. L. Middleton, Sunday school secretary to the North Carolina Baptist State Convention announces the progress of the Sunday school work of the denomination as a preliminary to the convening of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention at Hendersonville today. He gives the membership of the 1,892 Baptist churches in the state to be 220,225 and the membership of the 1,700 Sunday schools in the state as 184,500. There was raised for missions the past year $102,000 and for benevolence including the orphanage and ministerial aid, $149,000. There was about $12,000 more raised for general purposes the past year than for any previous year. The gain in the Sunday schools was 11,500 and of church membership about 5,000. Something like 11 per cent more was raised for missions the past year than for the year previous. There are 82 Baptist Associations in the State and the reports from 52 of them were received before the officers of the state convention left here yesterday for the state convention of Hendersonville.

This being a census year it is of interest to note that during the past decade the denomination has grown from 166,000 to 220,225 and the funds raised by the denomination for missions, education, orphanage and other special work has increased from $54,472 to $165,809. The number of missionaries in the field has increased from 75 to 148 and the contributions for objects of the convention have reached $63,299. The denomination has paid $158,748 for pastor's salaries and expended for church building $171,497, a grand total of $330,245 has been raised on mission fields during the ten years. It is figured that the Baptists of the state have raised and expended for state missions during the past decade $314,147.

During the past ten years Wake Forest College has grown from 289 to 375 students, two new buildings have been erected, the entire plant equipped with electric lights, a medical department established and $100,000 added to the endowment.

Meredith College for women has grown from 227 students to 393; Faircloth hall has been added a $43,000 debt paid off general heating plant installed and the institution will launch a movement at this convention for a $150,000 endowment.

The orphanage has grown from 198 children and $17,598 expenses to 396 children and $52,298 expenses.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM

is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. The cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. RUBBING with oils and liniments WILL NOT CURE, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, and allows the maledy to get a deeper hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure rheumatism than paint will change the color of rotten wood. Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you well all over. Rheumacide strikes the root of the disease and removes its cause. This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c. and $1 a bottle. In Tablet form at 25c. and 50c. a package. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md. Booklet free. Tablets sent by mail. For sale by Howard Gardner, Druggist.

SCHOOL FOR BRIDES

Wives to be Taught How to Make Husbands Happy.

Chicago Tribune.

The new department just opened in the School of Domestic Arts and Sciences in this city, in which prospective and young wives are to be taught how to make prospective and young husbands happy, ought to be an attractive and useful one. The most hopeful sign is the practicability of the new scheme. Instead of the various political, philosophical, suffragetical and ethical reforms which have been agitated as antidotes for the divorce habit, the author of this scheme gets far down to the roots of Benedictine happiness by establishing a curriculum in which the prominent items are making model bedrooms, disposing of socks, ties, and vests, preserving trousers, putting away shirts, airing rooms, decorating them, matching furniture, etc.

All this satisfies the outer man, but it does not provide for the cravings of the inner man. The kitchen should not be omitted. Unhappiness often begins at breakfast and culminates at dinner. Tough biscuits and burned roasts have been the source of much domestic undoing. Domestic dyspepsia, for which no pepsin remedy has yet been found, is a frequent cause of dissatisfaction, derangement, divorce etc.

Take Care!

Remember that when your kidneys are affected your life is in danger. M. Mayer, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily. I felt sluggish and tired, my kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley's Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new life and strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than for years." Howard Gardner.

ARMY CONSCRIPTION

SURE, SAYS EXPERT

Lieut. Gen. von Reichenau Declares U. S. and England Must Come to it. New York World.

His Excellency, Lieut-Gen. Ernst von Reichenau, of the German Army, retired, who arrived yesterday on the Lapland, believes in war. In the General's opinion universal disarmament would be impossible. He also believes that the United States will have to adopt conscription.

The officer, who is looked upon in Europe as the leading authority in the world on heavy artillery, is connected with the Rheinische Metallwaaren & Maschinenfabrik, or Ehrhardt Ordnance Works, of Susseldorf, the great rival of the Krupp plant. This may account in part for his opinions. The General may be considered a fire eater, for he believes war to be as necessary as eating.

Gen. von Reichenau is accompanied by Heinrich Mayer, chief engineer of the works. They were met by H. Tauscher of No. 320 Broadway, the husband of Madame Johanna Gadske, opera singer. Today they will be present at some tests at the Sandy Hook Proving Grounds of field artillery ammunition for the United States Government. The General will remain here a week.

He would not say that the ammunition to be tested was a new explosive. "It is something new," he admitted, "but of its nature I will not speak just yet."

"England must come to universal conscription, and America will follow: It is a necessity."

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup, bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. It contains no opiates. Howard Gardner.

When a man is a slave to money the world does its best to emancipate him.

Foley's Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results, and restore the natural action of the kidneys and bladder. They correct irregularities. Howard Gardner.

J. W. Greer, Greenwood, La., suffered with a severe case of lumbago. "The pains were so intense I was forced to hypodermic injections for relief. These attacks started with a pain in the small of my back which gradually became fairly paralyzing. My attention was attracted to Foley's Kidney Remedy and I am glad to say after using this wonderful medicine I am no longer bothered in any way by my old enemy lumbago." Howard Gardner.

Wants To Help Some One.

For thirty years J. F. Boyer, of Fertile, Mo., needed help and couldn't find it. That's why he wants to help some one now. Suffering so long himself he feels for all distress from Backache, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, Lassitude and Kidney disorders. He shows that Electric Bitters work wonders for such troubles. "Five bottles," he writes, "wholly cured me and now I am well and hearty." It's also positively guaranteed for Liver Trouble, Dyspepsia, Blood Disorders, Female Complaints and Malaria. Too Amiable

By DOROTHEA HALE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"Laura, dear, I am so glad you have come. If any one else had called this morning I should have been 'not at home.'"

"What a convenient expression, 'not at home!' It's like kings and presidents, who can speak officially or as private individuals, and it isn't a lie. But what's troubling you?"

"George." "George? Has he been giving way to that violent temper again?" "Quite the reverse. He has suddenly turned amiable."

"There's nothing bad about that." "No, nothing bad, except that I'm not used to it. I don't care how a man treats me so long as I understand how to meet him. George has always been impulsive, irritable, quick spoken. He's keeping something from me. On Wednesday he goes out at 8 o'clock in the evening and comes back between 9 and half past. I've tried my best to get out of him where he goes, but he won't tell me. He just palavers over me, calls me his 'little darling,' jokes about woman's curiosity, but I get nothing out of him."

"You suspect?" "No especial woman." "But yet you know she exists." "Of course."

"Have you looked on the shoulder of his coat for powder? Lots of men have been caught that way. The woman puts her head down there, and they all use powder. You're sure to find it on his coat."

"I haven't noticed any. Besides, I can't understand this self control. A man who is in love with another woman isn't usually very saintlike in his treatment of his wife."

"There you're wrong. George, feeling that he is untrue to you, keeps his self control to prevent his giving himself away. A man who is doing that must be very guarded. The feelings control the tongue, and the tongue is liable to betray him at any moment."

"I know George better than that. I twitted him about going out at 8 o'clock to visit a sweetheart, and he laughed at me. He may have the sweetheart, but that is not the hour at which he spends time with her. He isn't gone long enough."

"Why don't you shadow him when he goes out in the evening?" "The only reason I haven't done it is that I don't like to do such a thing. George has always trusted me implicitly, and I don't like to commit an overt act in my distrust of him."

"You silly thing! You don't know these men. They wouldn't hesitate, any one of them, to put a professional detective on his wife. And yet you hesitate to walk at a safe distance behind George just to see that he isn't getting into mischief. Why, it's your duty to watch him. Men are like children when women get hold of them and need a nurse. Would you trust little George to take care of himself? Come, get some stiffening into you! I'll help you. I'll come around this evening at 8 o'clock and lie in wait for George when he goes out, keeping him in sight till you come out after him. Then we two will follow him and solve this mystery."

"Well, I don't like to do it and couldn't do it by myself, but since you are going with me I suppose I can. Come at five minutes before 8. Go down under the stoop and wait till you hear George going out. Follow him, and I will catch up with you. I have often seen him start, and he always goes west. So I can't fail to go the right way."

That evening the two women put this plan into execution. George went out unsuspectingly, his wife's friend was under the stoop, and his wife came out within a minute after he had left the house. He walked leisurely up the street, turned several corners and finally mounted the steps of a house that was perfectly familiar to his wife.

"Oh, heavens," she exclaimed, "he's going into Dr. Fuller's! He has some terrible disease. I'm going in to find out what it is."

"Better wait till you have him at home, when you can talk with him calmly."

"I can't wait. I'm frightened to death. Oh, what can be the matter?" The husband had entered the house and was in the doctor's private room for receiving patients when there was a pull at the bell. Another patient, it was supposed, entered and without waiting for her turn pushed her way into the room and fell upon her husband's neck, moaning:

"Oh, George! What is this terrible disease from which you are suffering? Why have you hidden it from me?" George smiled a sickly smile at the doctor, who interposed:

"Your husband, my dear madam, has been showing symptoms of a breaking down of the nerve centers. I told him that his averting a collapse depended upon his maintaining as perfect an equilibrium as possible. Any giving way to anger or other disagreeable emotion might have been fatal to him. But now I am happy to say, thanks to his conquest of himself and doubtless your aid, he is so far improved that I consider him out of danger."

"Thank heaven! But why didn't you tell me, George?" "Oh, I didn't wish to worry you. You women are such confiding, sensitive creatures, I knew that if you were aware of my danger you would wear me out with troubling about it."

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam raising the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was. Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery. Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Danduff, Flaming Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpelide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Prominent Insurgents reiterate that they will not allow themselves to be persuaded by appointments, or other considerations, to abandon their principles. Those insurgents seem bent on saving the Republican party. Their pluck is admirable, but not so their judgment.

Durham county this month changed to a salary basis of compensating its officials. Little incidents like this show what a progressive county Guilford is. This county has been on a salary basis several years.

M. Rancourt, an actor, ran a sword through the lung of M. Champagne, a dramatic writer, in a duel in Paris. That doesn't sound like the days of dueling are over or that present day dueling is, as is supposed by some, a mere sham. The French always did reckon less of the value of human life than any other civilized people.

It is admitted that the male teacher in these grades contributes qualities to the pupil not equally contributed by the women; in other words, a different kind of work is done by the men and of some value.—Report of the By-Laws Committee of the Board of Education to the Board of Estimate of the City of New York.

It is hardly necessary to say that the women teachers protested vigorously. They claimed they could impart to the pupils the same and as many virtues as the men. The fact seems to be that there are certain qualities which men teachers can impart to the best advantage and certain other qualities best and most successfully imparted by women. These qualities, in both instances, are in a way indefinable except to a person very gifted in expression, yet no person would want his son or daughter taught exclusively by men from childhood to maturity. Neither would he want his son or daughter taught all the way through by women exclusively.

The verdict of a Louisville, Ky., jury convicting Joseph Wendling, accused murderer of little Alma Kellner, was accompanied by a recommendation that Wendling be imprisoned for life. Considering the nature and circumstances of the horribly atrocious double crime, we must agree with Wendling's own summary of the result after the verdict. He said: "I either killed the girl or I did not. They should either send me to the electric chair, or turn me free." That is eminently true. If the man is guilty, as agreed by the jury then the brutal dual crime doubly deserved death. If the jury had reasonable doubt of guilt a disagreement or an acquittal should have been reported.—Danville Register.

Ah, but that little word "reasonable"! There's the rub. What is a reasonable doubt? One man would define it one way and another. There might be one chance in a hundred that a man didn't commit a crime charged. One man would say that constituted a reasonable doubt and another man would say it didn't. Reasonable is a word which should never appear in a law or figure in a trial for it means something or nothing as you choose. The Louisville jurymen were evidently not entirely certain that Wendling was guilty. They didn't want to send him to the chair and run the risk of finding out afterwards that they had condemned an innocent man to an ignominious death. On the other hand the evidence was very damaging. Wendling was very probably (but not certainly) guilty. What more natural than that the jury should decide that the only thing for them to do was to hold Wendling indefinitely? Life imprisonment is punishment enough for a man convicted of murder on circumstantial evidence. It is a very serious punishment but at the same time it does not involve just the sort of possibility of an awful mistake as is involved by hanging on circumstantial evidence.

The Drum And The Trumpet.
 The Bentztown Bard in Baltimore Sun.
 The drum on the shelf and the trumpet below,
 With the little red wagon and sled in a row,
 Spoke unto each other of one who had come
 In the dusk and the gloom to the trumpet and drum,
 And lifted them up and looked down with a trace
 Of infinite sadness upon her wan face,
 And talked to them strangely and put them away
 In the far little room with its dust and its gray.

"She comes to me often," the drum made remark,
 "When the shadows drift down and the valleys are dark,
 And clasps me and holds me and talks to me so
 In a voice that is broken with sobbing,
 I know;
 And looks through the window, and leans on the sill,
 With her eyes toward the grove at the foot of the hill;
 Then puts me again on the shelf as of yore,
 While her lips tremble softly a sweet 'Nevermore!'"

"She comes to me, also," the trumpet replied,
 "And it fills me with courage and cheers me with pride
 To feel her loved lips on my mouthpiece and know
 How sweet I could trill if she ventured to blow;
 But she falters and trembles and lays me again
 On my shelf 'neath the roof, where I list to the rain,
 And wonder and wonder how soon the glad day
 Will come when he'll march to the tunes that I play."

"Last night," said the drum, as it smiled at the toys,
 "I heard the sweet music of laughter of boys,
 And the streets seemed aflame with the cheer that we knew
 The day we first saw him, with round eyes and blue,
 And he marched with us proudly, and hugged us and sang,
 And all the sweet household with melody rang—
 But only her shadows came by in the gloom
 As she sat with me here all alone in the room."

"There's something the matter," the trumpet essayed:
 "I wish he would take me again on parade!
 I loved his sweet spirit, his bonny, red cheek,
 His splendid, brave manner, the words he did speak.
 To invisible soldiers that marched double-quick
 At his haughty command where the battle was thick;
 She lifts me so gently, and holds me so tight,
 I'm sure as I can be that all is not right."

The drum on the shelf and the trumpet below—
 "O come!" sang the trumpet, "come lift me, and blow!"
 "Come!" cried the drum, with a quaver of heat,
 "O come, little Major, and make my heart beat!"
 No answer, no echo, except in the dusk,
 Through the old attic shadows of balsam and musk,
 A wan little woman, who leaned on the sill,
 With her eyes toward the grove at the foot of the hill.

GUILFORD POULTRY SHOW NEXT WEEK

Annual Event Will Be Held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of Next Week—Considerable Interest Being Taken and Event Promises to Be Successful.

The second annual show of the Guilford Poultry Association to be held in the store, 229 South Elm street, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, December 13, 14, 15, of next week, bids fair to be the most interesting poultry event ever held in the county. A large number of birds have been listed for exhibit and poultry raisers all over the county are taking unusual interest in the movement. Other people are showing their interest in a number of ways.

Realizing that it must instill into the hearts of the country children a desire for the better and more profitable breed of fowls if it would accomplish its aims the association has designated Thursday as "Children's Day" and all school children will be admitted free.

The State Farmers' Union meets here at the same time and many of the farmers from other sections of the state will be given an opportunity of seeing what Guilford is doing along the poultry line. And the Normal students have been extended a special invitation to inspect the various breeds of fowl that will be on exhibit.

In Pitiable Condition.

Lizzie Watkins, colored, living on Perkin's Row, was found in a pitiable condition yesterday morning by the police. She was ill and her 6 year old son was practically naked. The officers contributed toward getting some necessities and the county sent out a woman to wait on the unfortunate woman, she being too ill to be carried to the county home. They also ordered some food and rations, enough to stay the chill of death and pang of hunger.

Not Yet Confirmed.

The sale of the fixtures and supplies of the Holton Drug Co. to Mr. W. D. McAdoo has not yet been confirmed by the referee in bankruptcy, but it is expected that it will be today. Mr. McAdoo purchased the property at an auction sale Monday, for $24,500.

Never in all the history of our business have our book tables been so replete with good things from the linen A B C Books for the tiny tots to the fine sets for the library.

We would call especial attention to our list of illustrated gift books:

A Garden of Girls, the new Fisher Book, one of his best.

The Story of Hiawatha, illustrated by Kirk.

The Violet Book, one of the daintiest collections of poetry ever published. Cover beautifully decorated with violets, pages also decorated.

A Book of Friendship, being a collection of verse and prose.

A Book of Sweethearts, an old but ever popular book, now $1.25.

The Girl I Loved, illustrated by Howard Chandler Christy.

One of the biggest book hits of this year is a handsome boxed edition of Edward Salisbury Field's charming story, Cupid's Understudy. Those who have read A Six Cylinder Courtship by the same author will certainly want Cupid's Understudy. Price only 50c.

Cheek-Huston Piano & Organ Company Are Offering an Inducement For Quick Buyers—If You Don't Buy Now, You Never Will—Open Evenings Until 9:30.
324 S. Elm St.

The big piano sale will soon be over at the Cheek-Huston Piano & Organ Co.'s store. It has been a busy place for the past week, as people are realizing that it is the greatest piano opportunity ever offered to piano buyers in this section. There are many bargains left yet, and if you ever expect to buy a piano, it would pay you to make room for it some way and take one to your home. Remember the prices at which we offer to sell these goods, will only last for two days more, and as this is the last call, it will pay you to make your way to our store at once.

It is useless for us to quote prices and terms here, because, as we say, no reasonable offer will be refused from reliable people. In other words, we have a few more pianos here for sale, and it does not require salesmanship to sell goods at these prices. Don't delay. Act quickly and receive the benefit. Open every night until 9:30 to accommodate those who cannot call during the day.

"DEATH IS NOT NECESSARY"

View of Christian Scientists Commenting on Mrs. Eddy's Demise.

Baltimore Evening Sun.
Mrs. Eddy's death greatly surprised many of her followers in this city. Nearly all of the local Scientists absolutely refused to talk on the subject of their leader's death.

W. C. Williams, chairman of the Christian science publicity committee, was seen in his office high in the Baltimore & Ohio Building.

"Why is death necessary?" was asked him.

"Death is not necessary," answered Mr. Williams. "Life is immortal and cannot die. The mortal expression of man never had any life of itself, so that which did not have life could not lose it."

"Then what is man?"
"The real man is spiritual and co-existent with life, but until his outward thought and manifestation grow through generations of spiritualization to the height attained by Jesus he will continue to discard his natural expression when 'passing on.'"

"Then was the totality of thought dominating the sub-conscious ego of Mrs. Eddy too strong for her?"

"I couldn't answer that for publication without some thought on the matter. The question appears rather vague, and the preparation of an answer would take some time."

"What will be the future of the church, now that its leader is dead?" was the next question put to this long-suffering chairman of the publicity committee.

"As I said this morning, she will still live in her writings. Mrs. Eddy was the discoverer and founder of Christian Science and as such was the leader of the church. It is quite evident that a discoverer could not have a successor."

"Mrs. Eddy did not believe in personal leadership and retired as soon as possible to work in private for the cause. As she said at one time, 'All that I ask of the world is time to assimilate myself to God. I would take all the world to my heart if that were possible, but I can only ask my friends to look away from my personality and fix their eyes on truth.'"

"Mrs. Eddy's desire was to be known through her writings rather than through her personality. While all Christian Scientists love Mrs. Eddy as their leader and teacher, she emphasized that she desired that they follow her only as she followed Christ."

France Has Run the Gamut.

No other modern nation has undergone changes more frequent, more radical, more sudden, bloody and dramatic. In forms of government France has boxed the compass—has been feudal, monarchical, imperial, republican and revolutionary. She has sounded the depths of royal absolutism and of communistic anarchy; has made and unmade constitutions in the pathetic effort to get one that would fit; has known a military despotism which blunted the women to marry and bear children in order that Napoleon might be continuously supplied with troops; has known an absolute monarchy where a graceful manner was more effective at court than a head well filled with sense and has known a government of the rabble under which there was an insurrection against property and death sentences passed against citizens for the sin of wearing aristocratic names and clean shirts.—From "The Story of France," by Thomas E. Watson.

The Point of View.

The world in which a man lives shapes itself chiefly by the way in which he looks at it, and so it proves different to different men. To one it is barren, dull and superficial; to another, rich, interesting and full of meaning. On hearing of the interesting events which have happened in the course of a man's experience many people will wish that similar things had happened in their lives, too, completely forgetting that they should be envious rather of the mental attitude which lent these events the significance they possess when he describes them. To a man of genius they were interesting adventures, but to the dull perceptions of an ordinary individual they would have been stale, everyday occurrences.—Schopenhauer.

A Tinge of Suspicion.

"That speaker always starts off," said Farmer Cornsnessel, "by telling what the country needs."
"Naturally and properly."
"I s'pose so. Only I notice that when a man goes out of his way to tell me what I need it's always something in his particular line of goods."
—Washington Star.

Hard Work.

"Why did you tell me you were working your way through college?"
"I am."
"But nobody seems to know about it."
"Certainly not; my work consists of getting money from dad."—Buffalo Express.

Her Weekly Allowance.

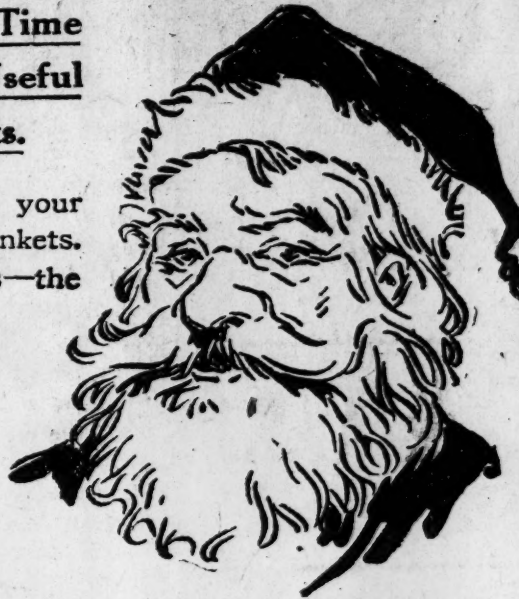

Freda—So you have a weekly allowance from your father? Hilda—Yes; he allows me to have a gentleman call two nights a week.—Lippincott's.

INFLAMED KIDNEYS

Medical writers declare it incurable
after the sixth month whether albumenous or not.

The average man prefers to think of "kidney trouble" and lets it go but the census shows this appalling fact—of 63,000 deaths from kidney troubles the last census year over nine-months of them (58,000) took the form called "Bright's Disease" although it is quite probable that nine-tenths of these are due to the last moment thought of it as not called "kidney trouble" when as a matter of fact the only possible hope lies through a specific for Bright's Disease.

There never was one until Fulton worked out his Renal emollient (Fulton's Renal Compound.)

Since then inflammation of the kidneys whether albuminous or not or whether called "kidney trouble" or

"Bright's Disease" or whether six months or six years old commonly yields.

If you have had kidney trouble over six months no matter what you call it is the only hope. Efficiency 87 per Carst, of Salem, Va., writes: "Three years ago I had a rough place on my cheek, it would burn and itch. I was afraid it might be of a cancerous nature. I used different preparations, but nothing ever helped it. One bottle of Sulphur Compound cured me completely. I recommend it to any one having any skin disease." For sale by How-

CHILD SWALLOWS CHAIN.

Lodges in Throat and Nearly Causes
Death.

Baltimore Sun.

With a big brass watch chain stuck fast in his throat William Quasky, 2 year-old son of William B. Quasky, a car inspector for the Baltimore & Ohio had a narrow escape from death early yesterday morning.

That the child did not choke to death is due to the presence of mind of his mother, who, after vain efforts to get a physician, gave the child medicine which resulted in dislodging the metal.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday night the baby was playing in the kitchen of his home, when he found a chain belonging to his father. After playing with it for a while he thought the next best thing to do was to swallow it, and swallowed it he did.

Mrs. Quasky was in another room, and when she found the child a short time later he was lying on the floor gasping for breath. She held him up by the legs and turned this way and that, but it did no good.

"Willie's" face was purple. He gasped for breath, but to breathe was next to impossible. His mother beat him on back and did everything else a distracted mother can think of doing in an effort to extricate the chain.

Now, the queer part was she did not know what was in the boy's throat, as he could only explain with his arms.

Eventually, finding that she could do no good, she picked him up in her arms and ran to the office of Dr. James

Cooper, 132 Hull street, only to find that the physician was ill. Then she hurried to the office of Dr. Sigmar Piroski, 1510 East Fort avenue. She rang the bell frantically. The child in her arms was limp and apparently lifeless.

A maid answered the bell.

"Get the doctor quick," shouted the mother, "my child is dying!"

She was told he was out, and Mrs.
Quasky in her distraction hurried home.

She put her fingers down the throat of her son, but failed to find out what he had swallowed until her husband discovered by a process of elimination that the infant must have swallowed his watch chain, for the watch had the ap-pendage lacking.

Neighbors were called in, and there was great to-do about the boy. The child was breathing faintly, and his mother thought him dead.

Frankly she worked over him, and finally her efforts were rewarded with recourse to the medicine.

Last night "Willie" was reported to be as lively and well as ever.

The furnace man is naturally addicted to hot air.

MARLBOROUGH'S NOTE.

A Scrap of Paper Treasured by the Great Duke's Heirs.

A scrap of paper that carries one back to the very atmosphere of a great decisive battle in the world's history is among the historical treasures of Blenheim House. On the paper are a dozen lines scribbled in pencill. They were written by the Duke of Marlborough at the close of the fierce struggle at Blenheim.

The tumult of battle was rolling westward, where French and Bavarians were in disorderly retreat, with Marlborough's cavalry riding fiercely in their rear. The slopes of the hill and the marshy plain were strewn with 30,000 killed and wounded.

But Marlborough, with the excitement of the great fight yet strong within him, pulled up his horse on one of the little rustic bridges across the Schwanbach and scribbled these dozen lines to his wife in London to tell her of the great event.

Apparently the duke borrowed the scrap of paper from some member of his staff, for on the back of it are the faded items of a tavern bill. He used the parapet of the bridge for a writing desk. He had been seventeen hours in the saddle, most of that time riding in the very heart of one of the greatest battles in all history, yet the letters are firm in shape, a curious testimony to that serenely unshakable temperament that was Marlborough's most striking characteristic.—New York Herald.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY.

The following resolutions have been adopted by Proximity Lodge, No. 158, Knights of Pythias.

To the officers and members of Proximity Lodge, No. 158, Knights of Pythias:

Whereas, since last we met in convention the rider of the pale horse that grim messenger of death has visited the home of our beloved brother John J. Phoenix, and laid his cold hand on the fair brow of his sister and the angels whispered "Dear Sister, Father is calling for you," whereupon she was borne away by them to the spirit land there to be with the loving Great Spirit throughout eternity.

Therefore, be it resolved: That we as a lodge extend our heartfelt sympathies to our brother in this his sad bereavement and commend him to the loving care and tender mercies of the Supreme ruler of the universe who is too wise to err and too good to be unkind. That a copy of these resolutions be sent Brother Phoenix, a copy spread upon the records of this lodge and a copy sent our city papers.

WAS ARRESTED AT THE PORT OF ENTRY

Charlie Johns, Colored, Sailing From High Point, Taken In Tow At Proximity by Greensboro Officers Yesterday—Carried to High Point Last Night.

Charlie Johns, colored, capitalist and general interstate broker, landed at the port of Proximity yesterday morning with a full cargo of general merchandise, suitable and ample, and of a variety sufficient to stock a well regulated, modern department store. Charlie, however, does not unload his merchant vessel; being an economist as well as a magnate, he proceeds to dispense his wares directly from vessel to consumer. And yesterday morning he was selling at greatly reduced holiday rates, such indispensable articles as tobacco, cigars, dry goods, notions, drugs, groceries and leather goods.

Whether the early shoppers were crowding too hard upon him or whether it was found necessary to have a cordon of police to guard him against the unscrupulous maneuvers of heartless pirates, who arrived in port soon after Johns cast anchor, is not at present determinable. At any rate notification was given to the chief of police, and before the darky had time to tack for the high seas, Officer Patterson arrived and placed him under arrest for a violation of the anti-trust laws, he being in open competition to his competitors in the matter of selling goods far below the prices at which they could be manufactured at the mills of the port.

Now, it happens that Capt. Johns has but one leg, having lost the other, it is surmised, at the battle of Santiago or at High Point in that memorable fight of 1908 in the cause of secession from the county of Guilford. Be it known, however, that the officers of Greensboro recognize no special privileges on account of race, color, or previous service in either army or navy. And in this case, although Johns denied their authority to make the arrest, the officers were not derelict in their duty.

It happens that on Monday night there was a store robbery in High Point, and there are those who believe that the negro, having taken everything but the store house, sailed for Proximity to work off his stock.

While he gives his name as Charlie Johns, it is believed that he is Randolph Rory, wanted in South Carolina on a reward of $100.00.

He is about 30 years of age and is minus one arm as well as a leg.

He was taken to High Point last night by Officer McGeehee, where he will be held for the grand jury.

MRS. EDDY

"Truth Seeker" Says She Was a Very Much Aligned Woman.

Editor Telegram:

"God is my life." With these words passed from the stage of mortal activity Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church. It is reported that she died of pneumonia. A press dispatch yesterday morning said that she was busy with her duties as leader of the Christian Science church up to within a short time of her death, and that she passed away apparently without suffering.

Mrs. Eddy has been a most maligned woman. Ministers from the pulpits of Christian churches have characterized her as a poor deluded fanatic; some have denounced her as an impostor; and in certain magazines of the muck-rake variety, every sin and delinquency of her life, even from childhood, have been heartlessly set forth for her undoing. Yet, never a word has she answered in bitterness or reproach. Her closest friends say that she was one of the most unselfish women the world has known, and bore herself in a quiet spirit of self-abnegation, lest her followers should make of her the apotheosis of the sect she founded.

As late as 1881 this remarkable woman was characterized as a supercilious and ignorant experimenter. But from a small band of personal followers, she has seen the church grow to a present membership of more than 100,000, with a church property valuation of nearly $100,000,000.

The Christian Scientists have made no appeal through revival efforts or even by preaching, to increase their church membership. The marvelous results are due mainly to their success in relieving suffering humanity. And the remarkable thing about it all is, that they have worked in absolute independence of preachers, doctors, hospitals, or drug stores.

The Christian Scientists claim that there is no death and Mrs. Eddy is, in at least one very true sense, not dead.
